

Candy Throw Game/Poem

I went to my first 31 party a few months ago. I had never heard of 31 so I wasn't sure what to expect. Boy was I over JOYED (Almond Joy) by what I saw.

What I found was MOUNDS and MOUNDS (M&M) of products that could be LIFESAVERS in organizing my life! The large utility tote has so many uses. Personalized laundry bag, grocery bag, beach bag and trunk organizer. Being a teacher, the organizing utility tote is the bomb!! It can hold all the necessities to and from school in one place. It has a place for your phone, your keys, your water bottle and your NERDS. Not to mention your papers and folders. It makes a perfect diaper bag for little BABY RUTH too. For those of you that go to the gym you won't find a better gym bag anywhere.

I'm not much of a purse person but I did find a WHOPPER of a wallet that I now carry with me at all times. It was a wristlet that makes it hands free so I'm not a BUTTERFINGERS and inside are all the slots and pouches needed to hold your cards, id and money.

After seeing all the amazing products, I decided to make 31 my extra PAYDAY. Having a SMARTIE in college now, the EXTRA income is a nice blessing. Not to mention that it lets me TAKE FIVE a few nights a month, laughing and relaxing. Who knows, maybe someday I'll even earn 100 GRAND!!!
